Our School 1967-68

The year 1968 found Arlington School in a process of change. Following a gradual increase in enrollment over the past years, Arlington School found itself showing a probable decrease of enrollment in 1968. In 1928 the Arlington School District enrolled 387. Twenty years later, in 1948, the district enrolled 419. Now, in 1968, the enrollment stands at 668. However, the farms grew larger in size and fewer in number. Graduates moved to other cities and other states. These events slowed the growth of our school.

Other events highlighted the year 1968. The new standards for high schools became effective on July 1. Students needed seventeen units of credit to graduate. Public meetings were held to discuss reorganizing the county and city schools. The state and the students began demanding vocational education.

There are indications that these events are only forerunners of more significant changes. As we move to accept automation and urban living, our desires and needs change. The demand calls for equal housing practices, equal rights, and a better education

The faculty, staff, and students look forward to meeting the changes to the very best of our ability.

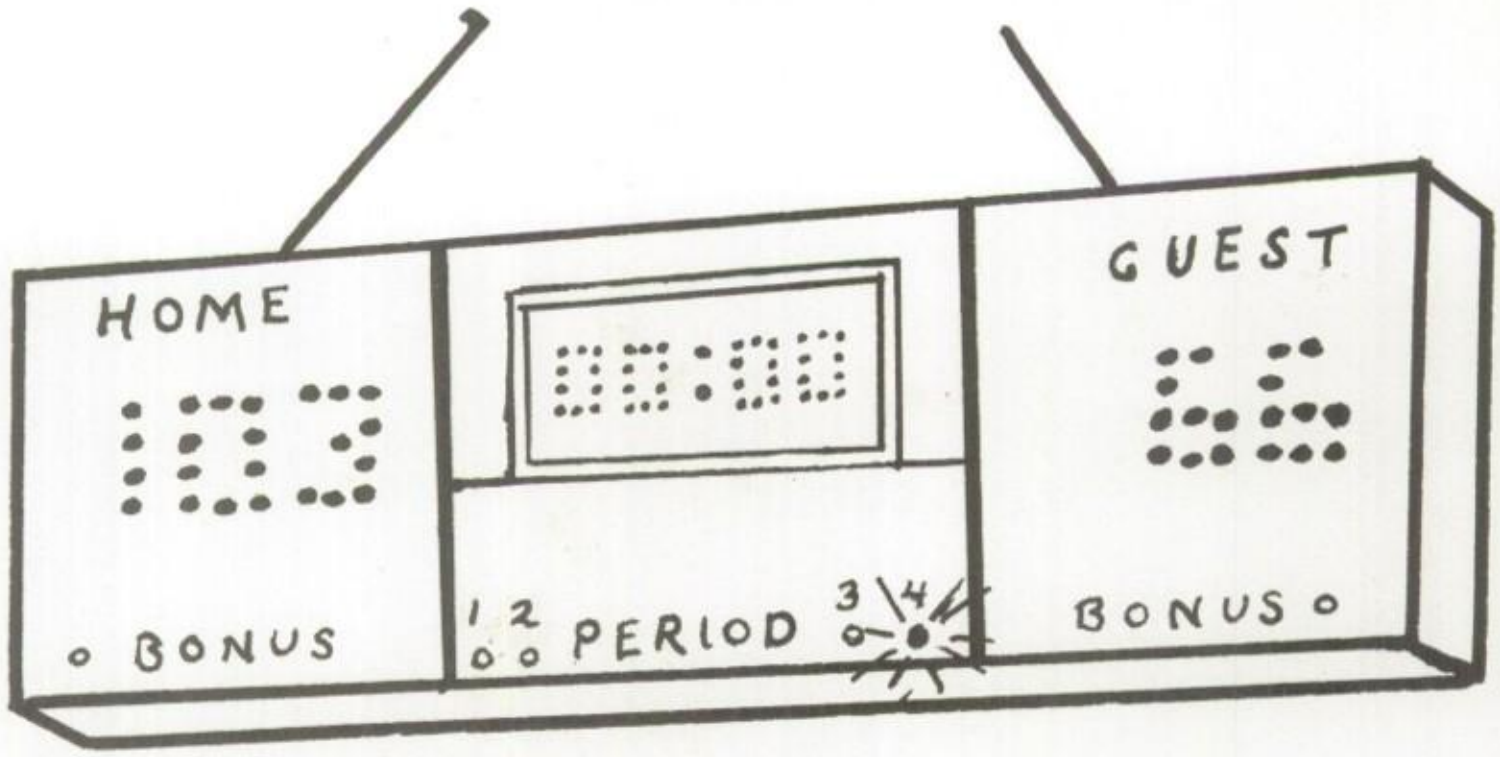
This year our annual staff was headed with 20 members, with the help of the two co-editors Doug Smith and Junior Weihrauch. Everyone has worked very hard to publish what we think is a fine yearbook. We have tried to give you the highlights of our 67-68 year.

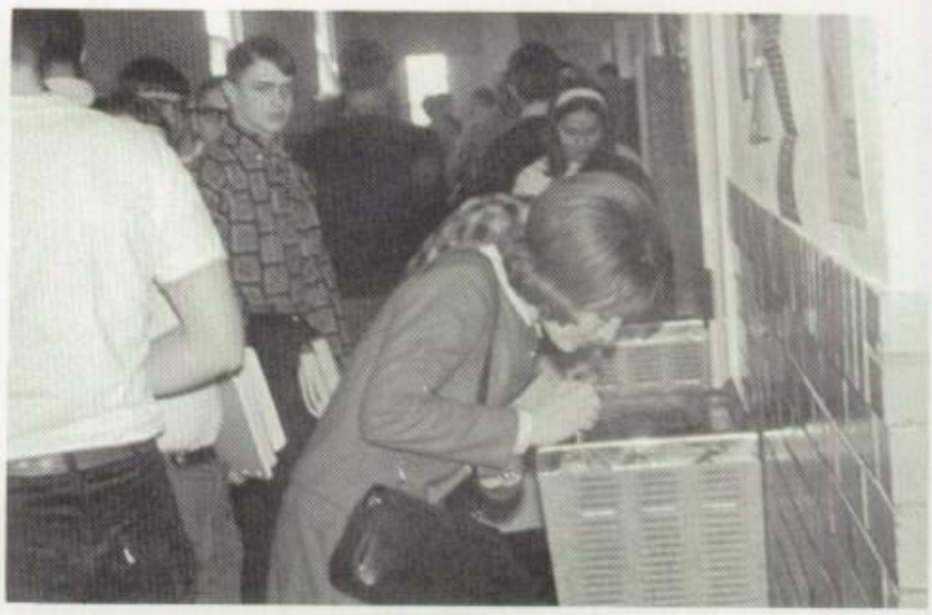
On October 20, 1967, 14 members attended a yearbook workshop sponsored by the Intercollegiate Press Company. We would like to thank all those who have supported our yearbook by purchasing advertisements. We would also like to thank Mr. Mengert for helping us to publish the 67-68 yearbooks.

What's New



THE CENTURY MARK WAS REACHED BY THE BASKETBALL TEAM
103 to 66 MARGIN ON THE NEW SCOREBOARD.

New band bleachers made possible through the Band Parents.



Two new additions to our school this year were the new glass doors in the front of the school and drinking fountains on the third floor.

CLASS OFFICERS

STANDING: Jane Traucht, Fred Cramer, Bob Musgrave, Nancy McMillen. SEATED: Kay Wilson, Ron Snyder, and Bette Taylor.

On September 6, 1967, the Junior class officers began their duties as class officers. They were Ron Snyder, Pres.; Kay Wilson, Vice-Pres.; Bob Musgrave, Sec.; Fred Cramer, Reporter; Nancy McMillen, Treas.; and Bette Taylor, Bus. Man.

Four weeks after school started they received their class rings.

During a break in our schedule, we had time to put on a play entitled "Pick-a-Dilly", which was directed by Mrs. Musgrave.

Between March 1 and May 17, we proceeded to prepare the prom for the Seniors. Although we didn't achieve a great deal, most students agree we did fairly well, and are glad to see only one more year ahead of us.

Mrs. Wiltse was the Junior class advisor.

The concession stand which was run by the Juniors, did well all year and had plenty of help from all. Although they took a preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, the rest of the year they remained idle.

Our big project for this year was a unit study of Africa. This study included an individual report from each student on one section of Africa, each student working on one of four group projects and a field trip to Bowling Green University, during Africa Week sponsered by Dr. Michael Nwange from Nigeria.

Other high points of the year were our Halloween, Christmas and Valentine parties.

On September 7, 1967, 32 pupils, 17 girls and 15 boys, enrolled as sixth grade students. Later Dee Wisnewski entered and left. Then Pam Love joined our group while Sharon Mowery moved to Pandora.

During the first part of the year we became scientists by doing the experiments in a special science S. R. A. box called "Our Atmospher."

In the social studies lessons we learned how the ancient Greeks and Romans lived and their ideas became our ideas.

Two parties are held each year in the fifth grade. Mrs. Dewey Gant and Mrs. Raymond Oates, room mothers, were in charge this year.

On Halloween, all 65 students played games in the gym, during their regular gym period, and had refreshments in the cafeteria.

Valentines were exchanged, games played and refreshments were held in each room on February 14.

The fifth grade plans to visit the Allen County Historical Museum, in Lima, to complete the Social Studies and Science units for the year.

The fifth grade tried out the block system this year. Mrs. Willeke taught science and math and Mrs. McDevitt taught language arts and social studies. This division was beneficial to both teachers and students. We covered more material better than ever before. At semester time, the students that had science and math in the morning now have science and math in the afternoon. This gives all students the benefit of using their best learning time on all subjects at least part of the year.

The Fourth Grade English was made more interesting this year by doing a puppet play, The Cardboard Castle. The students made their own puppets and the castle, then acted as puppeteers. Others of the class read the script as the puppets performed. The play was presented for the other Fourth Grade.

The art work this year under Mrs. Schmidt has proved especially interesting to the children in using different media to express their ideas. A series of scenes in the style of Van Gogh were really challenging.

Mrs. Loader greeted twenty-four pupils in her Fourth Grade class in September.

The basic subjects: Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, and Language are always challenging as the pupil advances. In Science with the performing of experiments before the entire class by individual students were of special interest. Social Studies, including Early American History and Geography of the United States, adds to the the appreciation and patriotism of our Country.

Extracurricular activities were participation in the Christmas program, our part being "Christmas Carols of Other Lands" and Song Flute Classes in preparation for Beginners' Band. The class always enjoys the annual Field Trip near the close of the school year.

Tommy Essinger was unable to enter school until December 7, because of an accident on Arlington's Main Street.

We have studied many interesting units, along with our reading and other usual subjects, such as Indians of long ago, fun and mysteries of the ocean, the many kinds of rocks and how they were formed, and the lives of many famous people.

We enjoyed a trip to the Findlay Public Library with the other third grade.

Since third graders learn to use reference books, make book reports and find books of their choice, a fall trip to the Findlay Public Library was a great help.

Paragraphs and punctuation are important in our grade. We made progress in writing good sentences and paragraphs. This knowledge is used to write friendly letters, too.

After much practice and more difficult examples in addition and subtraction, we learned multipication and division. Story problems seem to need continuous study.

Sliding on the ice has caused two of our girls to lose teeth. Becky Launder lost two permanent front teeth in one accident and Wendy Moses lost two temporary teeth in another.

IT'S FUN TO BE AN AMERICAN. This we discovered in our unit study about our country. We learned of so many things to discuss and enjoy about our American way of life and many things we can do to show our true patriotism. Each student completed a booklet which included pictures of Washington, Lincoln, the bald eagle, Uncle Sam, American flag and pledge, maps, liberty bell, Statue of Liberty, and the capitol building at Washington, D. C. The book, "Being An American Can Be Fun", by Munroe Leaf was most helpful in our study. We also used the encyclopedias and resource books and film strips from our elementary library. As a result of these studies, we have class composed and self written articles which we included in our booklets.

Yes, we have learned so much about our country which makes us all proud and thankful that we are AMERICANS.

Mrs. Huffman and her pupils took a trip around the world on a magic carpet. We visited with children from Mexico, India, Japan, China, The Holy Land, Spain, and many others. We made twenty-two stops.

We learned from stories and film strips how children are much the same. All children go to school, work and play to round out their lives. We had fun tracing our course on the world map.

Greetings from the first grade! Here we continue the process of living with each other, to learn to listen, to do our work neatly, and complete each project. Now we learn about words in language, reading, writing and spelling. Through "phonics" we learn how to build our own words. In this area we learn what consonants are the sounds that blends make, and how to use the vowels. We are now able to add and subtract plus learning many other ways to use numbers. This year we shall have a unit"The Farm". Through this study we can put to use our language and number skills.

The door of room 113 opened in September to welcome twenty-three pupils which increased to twenty-six by November. The pupils attending our school for the first time were: Ronny Cooper, Becky Miller, Jane Beagle, Dorothy Hartley, Kenny Horton, Danny Grohoske, and Bobby Zorn.

Our Math book proved to be a good challenge for us and our parents, it was titled "Modern Math". However, gym and art proved to be the most popular subjects.

In the Spring, we planted seeds of wheat, oats, and corn for our Science table display and for our studies of The Farm and Farm Life Unit.

Forty-five kindergartners are nearing the end of their first half year of school. As individuals we have learned to live and play together as a group. We have enjoyed the beginning concepts in mathematics. We have worked with sets in many ways. At this writing we can count in rotation around the circle to 100 by 1's, 5's and 10's and by 2's to 50. In reading we are learning to go from left to right, recognize differences in shapes and we are attempting to master the alphabet. In addition to this we have enjoyed art in many forms of which painting is our favorite. We shall be eager to learn to read next year.

The special education class is made up of children who need the advantages of a small class and special methods. The teacher is able to give each one the extra attention that he needs. Under these conditions, each child has more opportunity to learn. The child is not placed in a set curriculum; rather, a curriculum is designed for each child. Each works at his rate without the frustration of keeping up to 'a place in the book'.

The program provides more experience for the children because this is the best way to learn. There is much emphasis placed on social learning. All activities are created to teach children how to live in their society and get along well. Everything that is taught has practical meaning.

One trip we took this year was to Wonderland in Maumee. The children enjoyed this wonderful opportunity to share the beauty that can be created through stories. They practiced good manners, and learned how to relate an experience to someone who had not been there. We recreated in many ways the things we saw that day.

At Christmas we made cookies to take home to our families. The boys and girls learned a great deal about cleanliness that day. They decorated cookies and containers, wrapped the presents, and experienced the joy of giving.

This class is the primary group, ages six through nine, as limited by state regulations. The class cannot number more than sixteen or fewer than twelve. We have an enrollment of twelve this year.

MARCHING BAND

The Arlington High School Marching Band, directed by Ronald Cable, performed in homecoming festivities throughout the summer. The band played at Camp Berry for the WFIN Republican-Courier Annual picnic. On Junior Fair Night the band performed a spectacular show and won second place. They also participated with other bands in the County in the Findlay College Homecoming. During the football season the band presented "THURSDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES" and other delightful half-time shows.

CONCERT BAND

After the football season, the Concert Band organized and began work on the required music selections for the District Band and Chorus Contest, held at Ohio Northern University. They received an Excellent rating. They presented these and other equally difficult selections at the Spring Concert on May 1.

MIXED CHORUS

With the presentation of "AN OLD FASHIONED CHRISTMAS," the real meaning of Christmas was effectively revealed by the chorus through a manger scene and an old fashioned family gathering. Under Mr. Cable's direction, the chorus sang for the First National Bank Christmas Party, held at the Findlay Country Club. They also auditioned for the District Band and Chorus Contest and received a Good rating. At the Spring Concert the chorus prepared both Sacred and Secular selections. The Freshman Girls Chorus also sang at the Concert.

GAA

On September 26, 1967 the Arlington GAA girls started the new school year with a total of ninety members. Our newly elected President Brena Clevenger started our meeting by electing the Committee for the homecoming. We decided that our meetings would be held the third Monday of each month starting at 7:00 and ending at 9:00.

On November 21, 1967 President Brena Clevenger, called the meeting to order. We decided to have a bake sale December 2, 1967 at Traucht's IGA Store from 9:00 until 2:00. We also decided to have a white elephant sale in December. After the meeting Alberta Hartman, Jerri Rettig, and Jeannie Salsbury gave a demonstration on rules of girls basketball.

On December 14, 1967 the meeting was called to order and we decided to have a point system in GAA. Mrs. Bayes explained the point system to us. Each girl must have 50 points if they wish to stay in GAA. The 50 points are to be given to Mrs. Bayes at the end of each semester. The 50 points must be gotten from activities the girls participated in. A white elephant sale was held after the meeting.

On January 9, 1968, Pres. Brena conducted the meeting. The award system was discussed and Mrs. Bayes announced that she was going to order sweat shirts for the girls basketball team.

On February 6, 1968, the meeting was conducted by our Pres. and we decided we needed more money so we decided to have another bake sale. Basketball practice followed the meeting.

On March 11, 1968, we held our seventh meeting. We discussed ways to make money.

In April we went over our point system again and Mrs. Bayes announced that we had new fencing equipment for physical education classes.

Musgrave & Rettig–

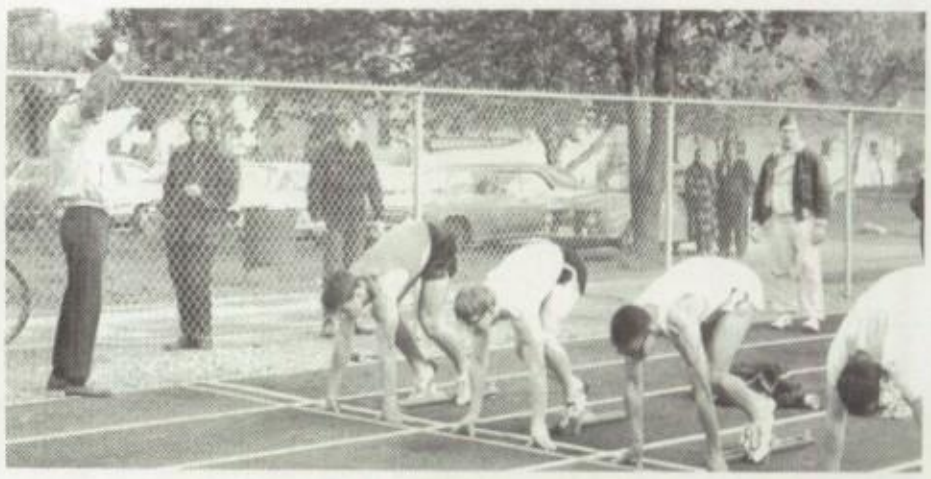
Clevenger & Frantz–
Relay Team

Davis–440 yard Dash

Ireland–High Jump



Taylor–100 Yard Dash

Arlington High School's young Track Team completed the season without any tangible success but the future could look bright. With only one senior gone, shot-putter Ron Rettig, the Arlington Track Team has some key boys returning for next year. Don Davis, top scorer, will return to improve upon his already good time in the 440 yard dash with a time of 54.4. Ken Worstine is expected to do well in the shot put and discus, 5th in the B.V.C. Jim Carey and Dick Taylor should handle the dashes having both run the 100 yard dash under 11 seconds. Two good pole vaulters returning to improve upon his 5'6" in the high jump and also the discus. Hurdlers John Rinehart and Tim Smith will take their places in these events and Keith McCelland will hold his own in the two mile. Also a very bright spot is the mile relay team that will return with Jeff Frantz, Larry Hindall, Jim Carey, and Don Davis with a top time this past season at 3:49.6. Other performers and their events are as follows:

Most Rebounds, Most Valuable Player Basketball, First All league basketball, Top hitter in baseball–Jeff Frantz
